PREFACE.

It is the purpose of this book to provide a more complete and comprehensive directory of the town of Lee, Massachusetts, than has yet been published. It is the intention to include the name of every man, woman and child in the town, grouping them in families and giving occupation and residence. The village of South Lee is placed under a separate heading. The Directory has been compiled with great care and thoroughness, and we believe will be found accurate up to date of going to press and exceptionally free from the errors which are customary and almost inevitable in such works. The pictures of churches and public buildings, and the miscellaneous information given will make the Directory a most valuable and attractive souvenir of Lee, and will commend it to all who are in any way interested in this goodly town.

ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH, (EPISCOPAL).

FIRST Edifice built in 1857, at a cost of $7,500. Totally destroyed by fire on Christmas eve 1861. Rebuilt in present form of stone contributed by Mr. Charles Heebner, then owner of the Lee marble quarries. All but the stone work destroyed by fire when Baird's block was burned in 1878. The church has recently been newly and handsomely refitted.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

ORIGINAL Edifice was built in 1839-40, and was 40x55 in size. In 1849 an addition of 20 feet to the eastern end was made, and about 1865 the front was remodeled and the steeple was erected. A fund is now being raised to remodel the present edifice or to erect a new one.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

FIRST Edifice, 50x36 feet, was built in 1780 by vote of the town, and was a rough and primitive structure. Second edifice was built in 1800, also by vote of the town, and the raising occurred July 4th and was a notable event. This was burned in 1857. The present edifice was built by the Congregational society in 1857 at a cost of $30,000 and has seating capacity for over a thousand. Church parlors were added about eight years ago at a cost of $3,000.

WOOD - AND - KINDLINGS!

Etc., with small addition of Lumber. Running a large farm, working into good stock and strawberries.

NOTICE.

SAID Braga came to this county some four years ago with but 90 cents to his name and very much disabled with diseases on a visit, through lines of discouragement, from the West. Health improving business began to move and with the aid of a small pension and frugality he to-day is worth quite a little property and the prospects are he will become one of our first men. For this place he makes a good justice of the peace and a good business man and highly esteemed by everybody and the people of this place are wishing him the best of success. He is proving himself to be one of the finest farmers in this part of the county.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH, (CATHOLIC.)

ERECTED In 1856, and is the largest church edifice in town. St. Mary's society now owns all of the south side of Academy street and has a handsome parsonage, a fine parochial school building and a residence for the Sisters connected with the school. The last two buildings appear in the above cut.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

THE Baptist church was organized in 1852. Owing to various discouragements the church was disbanded in 1863. A new church and society was immediately formed and services were continued in the same edifice. During the past year (1894) the exterior of the church has been painted and the interior has been thoroughly renovated and newly carpeted.
